

FAQs About NRI's New E-Learning Feature

1. Why do I have to register?

The personal information on the registration screen is necessary for your accreditation certificate; if you are purchasing courses for somebody else you should make sure that you input the student's information on this page. Registering for the site creates your own list of purchased courses that you can come back to as many times as necessary.

2. How do I search for a course?

The search engine on the left side of the screen allows searches by accreditation and/or subject.

To return all courses select "generic completion" for accreditation

3. What if I don't need CEUs?

Users are not required to take the test at the end of the course. Individuals can still benefit from the on-line course material without completing the CEU test requirement.

4. How much do the courses cost?

The fee per course is minimal, typically $10 per credit hour. Most courses are 1 hour in length.

5. Where do I enter a discount code?

You enter a discount code each time you check-out. The system will automatically re-calculate your purchase price based upon the terms of the code.

NRI courses are offered free of charge through December 16 by entering "2007UG" in the discount box.
